IJCAI-09 Industry Sponsor Program

On behalf of the Conference Committee of the IJCAI-09, we invite you to expand your participation by becoming a sponsor of IJCAI-09. The theme of IJCAI-09 is "The Interdisciplinary Reach of Artificial Intelligence," with a focus on the broad impact of artificial intelligence on science, engineering, medicine, social sciences, arts and humanities. IJCAI-09 is sponsored jointly by IJCAI and AAAI. Your participation in the IJCAI-09 Sponsor Program will give you instant visibility and access to over 1,000 AI professionals, representing a host of research areas including robotics, the semantic web, integrated intelligent technology, agents, automated planning, interactive digital entertainment, education, and expert systems, to name only a few. Your sponsorship will support a host of programs during the conference, including student programs, research competitions, and the IJCAI-09 Invited Speaker program. Sponsorship includes a table-top exhibit space as well as a complimentary technical registration and other standard exhibitor benefits.

Please note these additional opportunities for Industry Sponsor Participation!

Technical Tours. IJCAI-09 will provide transportation to your site. We are planning on half-day or full-day tours. If you would like to be a tour destination, we would ask you for a POC, a tour concept, and a desired number of participants (you can specify a maximum). We will work with you on planning and logistics in the coming months.

Industry Day. This is a one-day session within the conference program intended to be a forum for local industry to "tell their AI story" in any way that works for them. The content would be entirely up to you. You could use the forum for networking, recruiting, marketing, or even just bragging. All conference registrants have access to the Industry Day event. The day would be structured around a panel and a series of industry
